It is the contracted distributor's responsibility to enforce this clause.

Right to Terminate

If either the Tour Operator or the Hotel fails or neglects to perform or observe the terms required under this Agreement and such failure continues for a period of 7 days after service of a written certified notice from the other party ("the non-defaulting party") calling upon the defaulting party to remedy the failure, then the non-defaulting party can request to terminate this Agreement without prejudice to any rights of the parties arising prior to such termination.

Force Majeure Event means an event beyond the control of one Party, which could not reasonably have been foreseen and which effects cannot be avoided by appropriate measures, preventing this Party from performing its obligations performed under this Agreement.

Force Majeure Event between the Hotel and the Tour Operator

- Neither Party shall be liable in case of a failure to perform or a delay in the performance of its obligations hereunder due to a Force Majeure Event which was unforeseeable at the execution date of this Agreement.
- The Party affected by the Force Majeure Event shall notify the other Party as soon as reasonably possible of the occurrence of the Force Majeure Event. Such notice shall detail how the Force Majeure Event prevents the performance of its obligations hereunder.
- As from the occurrence of said notification, the Parties' respective obligations shall be suspended during the time of the Force Majeure Event, and neither Party shall incur any liability in this regard. However, in any event, the affected Party shall make its best efforts to mitigate the effects of such Force Majeure Event.
- If the Force Majeure Event lasts more than thirty (30) days, then the Parties expressly agree to discuss in good faith the impact of the Force Majeure Event on this Agreement and on the Parties' respective obligations hereunder and shall negotiate, in good faith, any amendment, whether temporary or definitive, to be made to this Agreement.
- Should the Parties fail to find a mutually acceptable solution within thirty (30) days, then either Party shall be entitled to terminate this Agreement as of right, by written notice to the other Party, without any further formality, without incurring any liability and without any indemnity being due. Termination shall be effective as of the date of receipt of the aforementioned written notice.

In any event, each Party shall bear all its own expenses resulting from the occurrence of the Force Majeure Event.

Force Majeure Event between the Hotel and a Guest

- The Hotel or a Guest (i.e. the end customer who books Hotel accommodation services through the Tour Operator distribution channels on an individual basis for leisure purposes in accordance with this Agreement, provided that the end customer is a natural person) shall not be liable in case of a failure to perform or a delay in the performance of its obligations hereunder due to a Force Majeure Event which was unforeseeable at the time of booking.
- In any event, for any booking, as the Tour Operator acts as an intermediary between the Hotel and the Guest for the only purpose of facilitating bookings, the Tour Operator cannot and is not authorized to grant more rights to the Guest than granted by the Hotel and as such, the Tour Operator is not authorized to and shall not determine whether a Force Majeure Event has occurred in relation to a booking on behalf of the Hotel and/or on behalf of a Guest, such determination being left to the Hotel's sole discretion. In this regard, should the Hotel and/or a Guest invoke a Force Majeure Event in relation to a booking, the Tour Operator shall only convey any exchanges of information related thereto to the Hotel and/or the Guest.
- Any breach of the foregoing by the Tour Operator shall be at the Tour Operator's entire responsibility and the Agent shall indemnify the Hotel of any and all costs incurred in this regard.
- If the Hotel is unable to honour a Guest's reservation due to Force Majeure Event, or an exceptional event, the Hotel reserves the right to relocate and transport the Guest.

Tour Operator may not assign or delegate its rights or duties under this Agreement without Hotel's prior approval. This Agreement is governed by and is to be constructed in accordance with the laws of Vietnam. The parties irrevocably agree that the commercial court in the jurisdiction the Hotel is located will have exclusive jurisdiction to settle any dispute which may arise out of or in connection with this contract. If any provision of this Agreement is held to be invalid or unenforceable that provision will be eliminated or limited to the minimum extent possible, and the remainder of the Agreement will have full force and effect. If either party agrees to waive its right to enforce any term of this Agreement, it does not waive its right to enforce any other terms of this Agreement. This Agreement constitutes the entire agreement between the parties, supersedes all other written and oral agreements between the parties concerning its subject matter, and may not be amended except by a writing signed by Hotel and Tour Operator.
